

Environment protection and sustainable development

Friends of Benmore Outdoor Centre is committed to the protection and sustainable development of our natural environment This will be achieved in the following ways:

- continuing to be aware of the need to maintain a healthy environment and integrate this principle into the fundamental conduct of the charity
- ensuring that our activities are consistent with the principles of respect for the natural environment
- working in partnership with others, including environmental organisations, in defining and achieving good environmental practice
- incorporating the importance of sustainable development in teaching and learning in the outdoors
- taking particular care to observe regulations for environmental protection
- be aware of the environmental integrity of activities we support and offer advice on good environmental protection practices if necessary
